6 Fact Principle

1. If a vacuum could be established in a tube through a diameter of earth,
2. If at Point A, an Object, with mass, would be released inside of said tube,
3. Then the earth's gravitational force would pull the Object at progressive speeds, toward Point C.
4. After the Object reached Point C, the inertia of the moving Object, would project the Object toward Point B,
5. But an identical gravitational force, which moved the Object from A to C, would counteract the inertia and bring the Object to rest at Point B,
6. And the above Steps 1 to 5 would be eternally repeated.

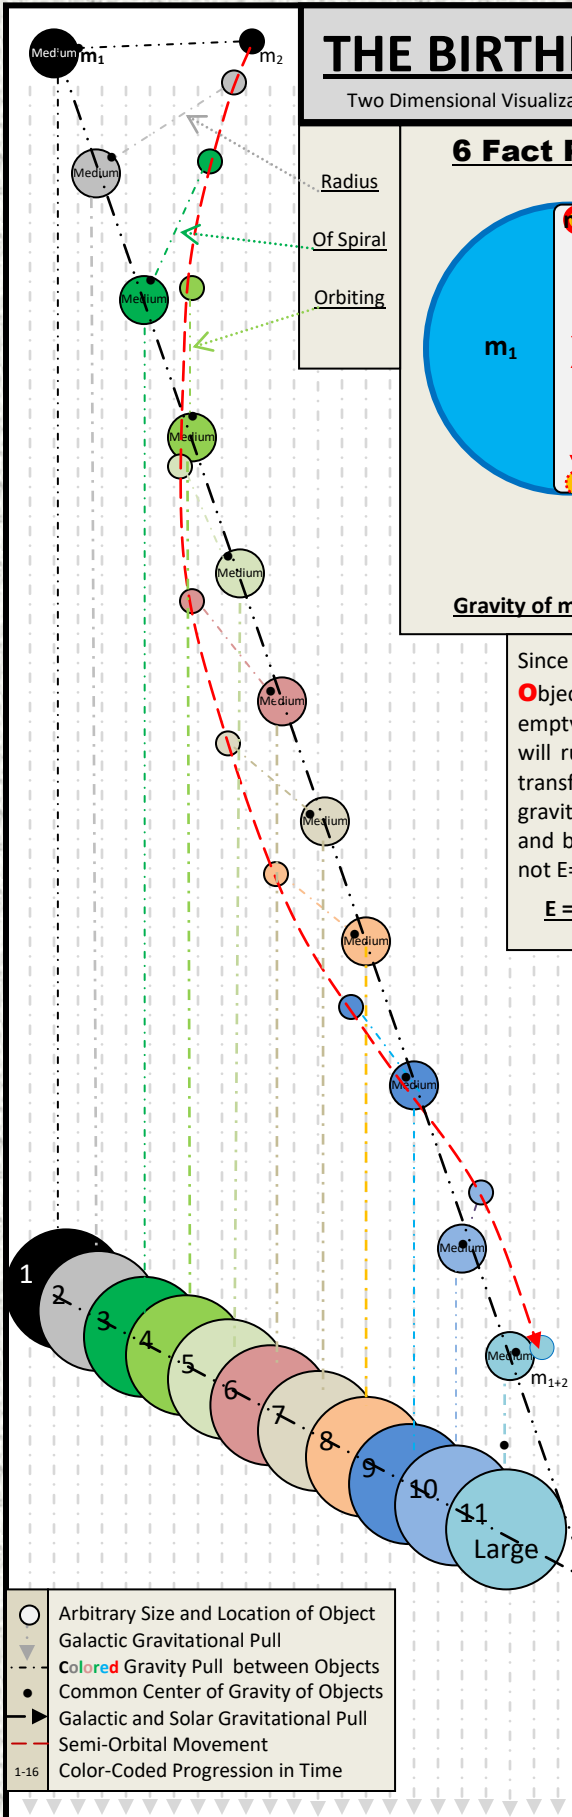

Gravity of m_1 and m_2 generates new energy to initiate and to stop inertia of m_2 .

Since a vacuum is an existential impossibility in earth, for in earth the moving Object encounters friction, which is not the case in space. Therefore in the empty space of the universe, energy is continuously created, like a clock that will run endlessly. And since it is a recognized scientific fact: Energy can be transformed from any energy to any other kind of energy; it can be gravitational, kinetic, electric, thermal, sunlight, or any other kind of energy and back again. The formula for the creation of this new, universal energy is not $E=mc^2$. As in kinetic energy, E is proportional to mass, speeds and vectors.

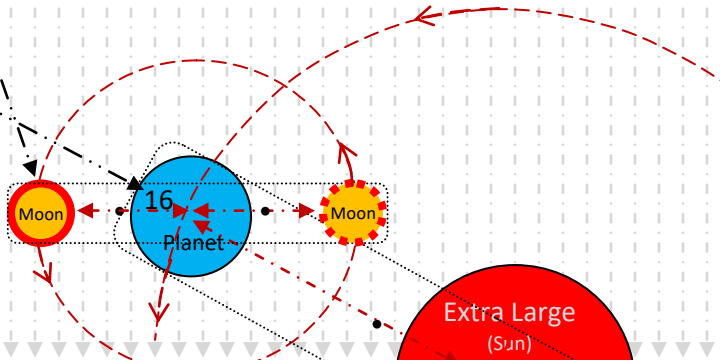

$$E = m_1 \times m_2 \times (\text{relative speed of } m_1 \text{ and } m_2)^2 \times (\text{factored angle of vectors})$$

Based on the 6 Fact Principle: In the empty space of the universe, moving objects that are driven by forces of gravity normally do not collide, as long as their common center of gravity is outside the circumference of the largest object. They automatically go into semi-circular orbits and eternally create energy. Thus so-called concepts, like 'Black Holes', 'Black Energy', 'Black Matter' and the 'Big Bang' are false hypothetical attempts of those, who as yet fail to take the 6 Fact Principle into consideration.

The 6 Fact Principle demands that present-day textbooks on theories of physics about the universe be re-written. And a most logical conclusion, which explains why and how energy is eternally created in an eternally expanding universe, is by gravity, and ultimately the Eternal God.
